NB I have included many of the works of art and prose that I admire in the three volumes of my autobiography. To many images and quotations I have been able to add a credit, but unfortunately some I have been unable to do so, not knowing how to contact the artist or the author. I apologise to all those I have missed naming and hope they will take the inclusion of their work in my books as a complement, as I do when my work is used by others, or as with the sculptures I did in 1970 that are being sold in editions of 100 around the world without my permission! I believe art and knowledge are for everyone to enjoy and the greatest gift that artists and authors have is the ability to give pleasure to those that follow in our footsteps. If I have offended anyone I sincerely apologise and if they would like to contact me I will of course acknowledge their names in an attachment. JR
